OFFICER GETS
10-YEAR TERMCol. Murray, Who Took Jap
Jewels, Also Dismissed
From Service

(By Associated Press)
YOKOHAMA, May 29.—Edward J. Murray, a colonel of infantry who won his decorations in combat, heard an army court martial sentence him to ten years imprisonment for misappropriation of a fortune in diamonds he had taken home as "souvenirs of war."

Murray stood silent, shoulders sagging, as the sentence was read. The Palo Alto, Calif., officer was convicted of all six specifications filed against him—covering misappropriation of the stones and failure to declare them or pay customs on them. In addition to serving ten years at hard labor, he was ordered dismissed from the service with forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

The sentence is subject to review by the U. S. Eighth army commander, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, who may reduce but not increase the term, and who will designate the prison. The War Department also will review the case.

Although the jewels he was charged with taking during his custodianship of the Bank of Japan vaults were valued at first at $210,000, the court reduced this to $92,000.

Murray himself, in the only statement he made to the court, said he was ignorant of the diamonds' value until after he had taken them home in March, 1946, and a diamond broker offered his wife "a price which astonished her by its size."

TWO INJURED IN TRAFFIC CRASH

Two persons suffered minor injuries Wednesday in a traffic accident on Route 62, north of Salem.

Cars operated by Donald L. Morris, 20, R. D. 1, Leetonia, and Ray W. Shank, 31, of Alliance, side-swiped on Route 62, a half mile north of Salem, at 1:15 p. m. Miss B. M. Weld, 61, R. D. 1, Salem, and Miss Esther Hutch, 27, of Alliance, suffered bruises and cuts of the face and head. Both were treated at the Central clinic.

Two cars, operated by Richard Shimer, 19, of Washingtonville, and Leslie Burbach, 32, of R. D. 1, Salem, sideswiped on Route 14, a mile east of Salem, at 11:15 p. m. No one was injured.

Two accidents were investigated near Lisbon today by the sheriff's office. No one was injured in either, but phone service near Columbiana was interrupted for a time after a truck-pole collision.

A truck operated by Rolland Kyser, 43, of R. D. 2, Columbiana, clipped off a telephone pole and then burned from the resulting short circuit on a township road just off Route 164, two miles southwest of Columbiana. Sheriff Deputy Howard Clark reported. The truck was destroyed by the resulting fire at 7:15 a. m.

A new car driven by John K. Larrimer of Gardonia, Calif., rammed the rear of a school bus, driven by William Harrison of Lisbon, at 8:30 a. m. today on Route 30, three miles west of Lisbon. The bus was stopped to take on a passenger. No one was hurt.

Of Gen. Eisenhower, Sec. Patterson

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Army's 1948 military budget was cut 8.3 percent by the house appropriations committee today despite testimony from General Eisenhower and Secretary Patterson that "real danger" lies beyond the "irreducible minimum" of men and money they had requested.

If congress upholds the committee, the Army will receive $5,240,922,423 in appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1. President Truman has asked $5,716,791,500 for the Army's military activities, exclusive of foreign relief and other civil functions to be financed in a later bill. For the current year military activities appropriations totaled $7,263,542,400.

The committee thus slashed $475,809,077 from next year's requests and cut $2,022,569,977 below current year funds.

New Planes Assured
It did, however, approve the Army's full request for $280,000,000 in contract authority to buy new airplanes.

In addition to the budget cuts the committee cancelled $1,100,000,000 of money appropriated for the current and prior years but not spent. The Army concurred in the cancellation. Its finance officers explained that (a) the money was not included in the 1948 budget and (b) was no longer needed for the purposes for which it originally was appropriated.

The committee did not claim the cancelled $1,100,000,000 as a saving in its goal to cut $6,000,000,000 from the President's overall $37,500,000,000 budget for next year but said the money, if not rescinded, might be spent. By the committee's action, the unobligated funds revert to the Treasury's general fund.

The claimed budget cuts to date, including the $475,809,077 in the Army bill, approximating $3,150,000,000. The committee insisted that its cuts would leave "adequate funds for an army of 1,070,000 to perform the missions assigned to it."

More than half—$293,936,216—of the total recommended reduction was leveled at War department civilian and officer personnel.

Personnel To Be Cut
The committee recommended cuts which it said would reduce civilian jobholders by 74,631 and officer personnel by 20,100, including 2,600 warrant officers. It also ordered a reduction in flying pay for air corps personnel without specifying how the cut should be applied.

No reductions were recommended in the number of enlisted men, nurses, dietitians, physiotherapists or research and development employees.

The committee said it believes the Army's request for funds to retain 146,000 officers "is excessive."

The committee said the Army's 1948 budget estimates contemplated 13.5 per cent officer personnel, or almost 3 per cent above the wartime peak.

The committee took this action on:

Research and development: approved the entire $222,216,400 requested.

Industrial mobilization: recommended $23,809,500 for a program of planning to speed up the conversion of industry to wartime status in short order if necessary. This is a reduction of approximately $2,645,000.

Since Feb. 17 the committee has been studying the War department's budget requests and during that time heard hundreds of witnesses whose testimony when printed filled more than 1,600 pages.

Principal witnesses included Secretary Patterson and Generals Eisenhower, J. L. Devers and Carl Spaatz.

HOUSE PASSES SCHOOL BILL

LABOR PARTY
BACKS BEVINBritish Foreign Secretary
Wins New Vote of Confidence

(By Associated Press)
MARGATE, England, May 29.—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin won an almost unanimous vote of confidence on his administration of British foreign affairs from the Labor party's annual conference today.

Scarcely more than a score of the 1,200 delegates voted for resolutions critical of Bevin's foreign policy. The vote was by a show of hands and no official count was taken.

The endorsement followed a 90-minute speech in which Bevin accused left-wing labor members of parliament of stabbing him in the back while he was engaged in important discussions with the United States government.

The day I was driving a good agreement with America to keep the bread ration from going down was the day I was stabbed in the back by the house (of commons)," Bevin declared.

He did not specify what house action he referred to or the date.

Warns of Asiatic Problem

Discussing world peace, Bevin declared world peace depended upon "solution of Asia's problems, and proposed that the 11 nations which were at war with Japan should take part in drawing up the Japanese treaty.

Bevin told the British Labor party's annual conference that the methods adopted at Potsdam for the treaties with Germany and her satellites—conferences of four or five foreign ministers—"will not be satisfactory in the settlement with Japan."

"I take the view," he said, "that if those 11 countries should take part, it will help us to deal with the peace treaty with Japan much quicker."

Warning against too much preoccupation with European problems, Bevin declared "Korea is a very grave danger spot—as dangerous in the Far East as anything in Europe." He added that future world peace would "depend to a very large extent upon the solution of the Indian problem."

"The whole Asiatic world is undergoing such tremendous change that it will have to be handled with the greatest possible care," he said. "If the nations of the world spend all their time watching Europe, the foreign secretary asserted, 'we may not see the danger' in Asia."

Quaker Annual Dedicated

Agriculture Bill
Faces Senate Test

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Republican congressional economy drive was still rolling along today, but it was beginning to develop some squeaks.

By a slim six-vote margin, and only after a $40,000,000 compromise, the GOP leadership shoved an $847,601,976 Agriculture department appropriation bill for 1948 through the house last night and over to the senate.

This brought to slightly over $2,610,000,000 the claimed savings in the house drive to cut $6,000,000,000 from the President's budget for the year starting July 1.

With only five more 1948 supply bills to be handled, there were signs that the going may be tough if the goal is to be reached.

For the bills which make up the balance of the President's overall $37,500,000,000 spending estimate are for local rivers and harbors projects and the Veterans' administration, in addition to the War department and some assorted federal agencies.

The appropriations committee may have trouble keeping Republicans in line when it comes to cutting funds for veterans and rivers-harbors projects.

75 Percent Earmarked
For Teachers Salaries

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 29.—The house approved unanimously today an amendment requiring 75 per cent of a proposed $23,500,000-a-year increase in school appropriations be used to hike teachers' salaries.

This action followed a recommendation from Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

An amendment requiring the schools to spend the money in this manner was prepared today by Chairman Paul H. Ballard of the house finance committee as the school bill came up for a vote in the house.

The bill, already approved by the senate, carries $83,000,000 a year in state funds for the public schools. Governor Herbert, endorsing the figure in a public statement, announced he would sign the bill at that amount.

The $83,000,000, he stated, represents an increase of $23,500,000 or 3 per cent over what the state gave to the schools in 1946 and is an increase of 73 per cent over what they received in 1944.

Taps OEA Request

In contrast, he added, it is $1,000,000 more than the program recommended to him last December by the Ohio Education association, the principal unit in the powerful school lobby.

The measure also liberalizes the formula for distributing the funds to schools. It requires that the schools be paid in proportion to their average daily membership, in comparison with the present formula of average daily attendance.

This will mean an additional $6,500,000 a year to the schools.

The measure calling for $83,000,000 a year in foundation subsidies to schools from state funds emerged unexpectedly from the house rules committee where it took refuge April 30 from a concerted "school lobby" campaign for increased grants.

It marked the first time this session that the rules committee placed a measure on the house calendar for vote out of regular order. The calendar customarily is made up two days ahead of balloting.

Month-Long Delay

The month-long delay followed a renewed drive by the Ohio Education association for restoration of $5,000,000 cut from the bill as previously approved by the senate.

Members said the measure was intended to give representatives time to show the "people back home" the increases they would receive above 1946 school grants which totaled $59,000,000.

The senate and approved $88,000,000 a year for schools, a reduction of $12,000,000 from the original request, despite vigorous OEA protests.

When the house education committee lowered the sum to $83,000,000, legislators were flooded with telegrams, letters, phone calls and personal visit from school bill supporters. Representatives said the "pressure campaign" was the most intense in their experience.

Memorial Day

Tomorrow is Memorial Day, which John A. Logan, G. A. R. commander-in-chief, first designated in 1868 "for the purpose of strewing flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion." With the passage of years and the accretions of history, the scope of the day has widened so that it now is also the occasion for tribute to those who fell in three subsequent wars.

This year the day takes on new significance as the Army begins the task of returning the dead of World War II from many distant battlefields. This is being done for families which ask it. For others, who prefer that their loved ones remain with their fallen comrades, the Army is completing well-kept cemeteries which in the next few years will be the goal of many pilgrimages.

Today some will deck graves with flowers of the new season, while others will turn their thoughts to distant burial grounds where their loved ones or their comrades lie. There is not a family in the land which has not been touched, either directly or indirectly, by war's chill hand. As we pause in our observance, let us renew our prayers and our resolve that their sacrifices have not been in vain.

Deserved Recognition

When Joseph R. Strobel, state director of vocational education, gave generous praise to Coordinator Holland W. Cameron of the Salem Trade Extension class and recognition to the high standing of the Salem vocational education program in the state, he was not trying to be polite because he was guest speaker at the annual commencement exercises. He was merely repeating what he has said to others many times in the past, with a conviction borne out by state-wide experience. He knows what a remarkable job Cameron has been doing in Salem for several years.

Salem is as proud of the coordinator's work as is the state director. It, too, appreciates the training program and its magnificent leadership. At first only the manufacturers and the trainees who were thus prepared for better positions realized the full meaning of these vocational programs. Now the entire community, and neighboring communities which have benefited, recognize their real significance.

Holland Cameron was one of the pioneers in this work in Ohio. He is as enthusiastic about it today as when he first started. Through his personal efforts the programs have been expanded and extended to reach into many vocational fields. He is so thoroughly imbued with the importance of these programs in filling present needs as well as building for the future that he gives of himself more than the prescribed duties require. He is adviser, coordinator and friend. He deserves all the recognition and praise the state director has just given him.

Let's Get This Straight

The public is puzzled by resistance to proposals for doing something constructive about strip-mined land in this state.

It can't be because the interests which did the mining believe the land looks all right the way it is. No one believes that.

It can't be that anyone objects to the relatively small cost of restoring the land to an approximation of its original appearance. No one properly can object to that.

Certainly it can't be because anyone thinks the land has been improved by piling it up in windrows, for someone to puzzle over thousands of years from now—and perhaps to wonder what kind of men were so angry at the good earth that they defaced it.

Nor can it be because there is no practical way to give strip-mined land a fighting chance to heal the scars left on it; modern earth-moving machinery makes restoration easily possible.

Let's get this straight: Are proposals for doing something about restoring strip-mined land being opposed merely to prove that no one can make the strip-miners do anything they don't want to do?

Plenty of Houses For Sale

Despite the reported shortage of veterans' housing, there are plenty of houses for veterans standing unoccupied all over the nation. There are more than 2,200 in and near New York City.

One of the reasons is that many a young veteran isn't in the market for a house; he wants rental property. He is buying a car and furniture, his plans are indefinite and he isn't ready to invest in a house.

The current housing shortage is, of course, multifaceted. There are other reasons veterans aren't buying available homes, and veterans' sales resistance is but one phase of a broader problem. But it is a contributing factor to the general curtailment of new construction. Builders with money tied up in houses they cannot sell will not invest additional funds for other construction work.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, May 30

THE indications are for an abrupt and quite unpredictable turn of events that is likely to uproot all previous or established footholds, plans or objectives and switch the interests and emotions to high and dramatic crises, with thrilling adventure and far-reaching consequence.

The mentality will be found keyed to meet such situation with bright ideas and keen grasp, inciting to travel, new scenes and contacts, with romance and change perhaps sensational and thrilling, and glowing progress and happiness in the offing.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a sudden and whirlwind turn of events, which will descend with uprooting and drastic force upon the life and all its plans, patterns and objectives, affecting all relationships and contacts with far-reaching and fundamental consequence.

Business, finance, skills, talents, ideas and ambitions are under strange or unique impetus to turn things over into fresh and thrilling pastures, the mind being keen in its reactions and insight for the sudden commotion and opportunity. Romance and adventure are forecast.

A child born on this day while being versatile and talented may have many sudden and thrilling changes in life, with much romance and adventure, perhaps in a spectacular career.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

One Type of Stomach Pain

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

EVERY now and then the physician will be called on to attend a middle-aged person who has suddenly been stricken with a pain of terrific intensity in the pit of the stomach.

If this is accompanied by a rapid, feeble pulse, swelling of the bowel, tenderness over the abdomen, rapid breathing, vomiting, a below-normal temperature and, above all, by cyanosis or blueness of the lips, the doctor will keep in mind that he may have a case of acute pancreatitis to deal with.

Severe Inflammation

This condition results when the pancreas, a gland within the abdomen concerned in the digestion of sugars and starches, becomes severely inflamed.

It constitutes one of the gravest of emergencies. Sometimes it may be so severe as to prove fatal within an hour but in the majority of cases, proper treatment will forestall death and bring about recovery.

Men are more often stricken than women. Those who develop it are likely to be somewhat overweight and to have high blood pressure. The most important factor relating to the development of this condition seems to be gallstones. According to Dr. John Morley of Manchester, England, gallstones are present in 60 per cent or more of those who suffer from acute pancreatitis.

Not Easy To Diagnose

Acute pancreatitis is not an easy condition to diagnose because there are so many other troubles which give similar, though not identical, symptoms. These include gallbladder inflammation, the enlarging or breaking through the wall of the stomach of an ulcer, blocking of the passageway through the small intestine, and even coronary thrombosis, that is the formation of a blood clot in one of the arteries which supply the heart muscle with blood.

However, there is a laboratory test which may be helpful. This consists in determining the amount of amylase present in the blood and urine. Amylase is an enzyme and is a substance which aids in the digestion of starchy foods. If the amount is increased above normal, then it suggests the presence of acute pancreatitis.

Treatment by Operation

Formerly it was the practice to treat acute pancreatitis by operation, that is opening the abdomen and draining the pancreas. Today, however, it seems generally agreed that such operation is of little, if any, value in most cases. As a rule a different type of treatment will be more successful.

The patient, of course, is put to bed at complete rest and fluids are given by injection into a vein continually. A salt solution or a fluid part of the blood known as plasma may be employed. It is suggested that the giving of a sugar solution, such as glucose, may be dangerous. Since gallstones seem to be the most important factor in producing acute pancreatitis, it would appear important that gall stones be recognized when they are present and that they be removed by means of surgical operation.

Want to Run a "Collective" Farm?

Was reading the other day about the "collective" farms they have in certain countries. It seems the folks who run them have plenty of help ... good hours ... and the best equipment.

Sounds pretty nice—till you learn that the "farmer" doesn't own his land, or even farm it, in our sense. He takes orders from the state; produces whatever they want him to produce, at prices they set. Even his off-hours are spent according to state regulations. No, that would never go here.

We're willing to work hard, but we like to farm the land our own way, put our own value on the crops, and relax as we like—if only with a temperate, companionable glass of beer.

From where I sit, collective farming may produce results. But the American way—freedom to work and relax as we see fit—is what makes this country a great place to live. So let's not change it!

Arctic Seen As New U. S. Line Of Defense

GENERAL SPAATZ TELLS CONGRESS OF FUNDS NEED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Army believes that if there is another war the main defenses must be on the Arctic frontier.

Without naming any possible aggressor, Gen. Carl Spaatz, commanding general of the Army Air Force, told the house appropriations committee during hearings on the 1948 military supply bill sent to the house floor today.

"As we fabricated this budget... we had continually in mind the concept of the Arctic frontier, while none of us, of course, knows when war may come, we can with reasonable assurance tell from whence it will come."

"Wars of a scale of magnitude adequate to affect the United States must be compounded of two primary elements—a large population which may become warlike, and a vast industrial resource for the production of weapons."

Reference to a globe representing the earth's surface will show at once that the Southern Hemisphere may be dismissed. There are no vast populations there and there is no great industrial capacity south of the equator.

Three Possible Areas
There are three possible areas in the Northern Hemisphere where these two conditions do exist.

The first is in western Europe where both the first and second world wars originated.

The second is in eastern Eurasia and the nearby islands of the Western Pacific whence the Japanese jumped off the last time.

"The third is the land mass of Central Asia."

"It is certain that the weapon of the future which will immediately attack us and which must give us the gravest concern is the long-range guided missile. Either of these weapons will follow great circle courses."

"Trace great circle courses from either of the three areas mentioned above to the industrial centers of the United States and we find that all of these courses thus described pass over or near the Arctic regions."

"We can define, therefore, that if our defenses are to be between us and the enemy they must be on the Arctic frontier. Likewise, if our weapons are to move to the war chests of the enemy they must follow the same courses and have the range, the speed and the characteristics to follow the same pathways to the war-making potential of the enemy."

Other army officers backed up the War department's request for funds to finance large-scale maneuvers in the Arctic regions, and to develop missiles that will travel through the upper air at 3,000 miles an hour. Spaatz told the committee that regardless of where the next war comes from, "hostile shots will most certainly be fired on the United States" and air attacks, either by heavy bombers or guided missiles, "will hit the United States and do terrific damage."

PARADE PLANNED AT COLUMBIANA

Rev. McDivitt of Steubenville Speaker for Memorial Service

COLUMBIANA, May 29.—Rev. J. K. McDivitt of Third Presbyterian church, Steubenville, former army chaplain and pastor here, will make the Memorial day address at the cemetery Friday morning.

The parade will form at the Legion home on Pearl st. at 10. Headed by the high school band, it will proceed to the cemetery by way of W. Park ave., Middle st., Union st., S. Main st. and E. Park ave. At Pittsburgh st., it will be joined on S. Main by school children.

Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion, and York Drexler post, V. F. W., veterans' organizations sponsoring the observance, will be joined in the parade by the Legion auxiliary, Girl Scouts, and other organizations.

On the return from the cemetery, there will be a brief service at the honor roll board at the public square.

Mothers Club Officers

New officers elected by the Mothers club Monday evening are: President, Mrs. Fred Fritch, vice president, Mrs. John Woodward; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Louis Way. They will be installed at the annual picnic Wednesday, June 18, at Firestone park, when the children will be guests.

For the pre-school clinic at the High school Monday, June 9, the children will receive attention in the alphabetical order of names, the schedule to be made up later.

Dr. Lee Bookwalter was the speaker at the club meeting. His subject was "Cancer," concerning which his address dealt largely with cures.

The congregation of the Methodist church will observe May church night this evening, beginning with a covered dinner at 6:30. Motion pictures of Camp Fitch will be shown.

Three Buildings Looted

The High School building, the public library and Chevrolet garage were broken into Monday night. Entrance to the school building was effected through a ground floor window and several rooms were entered, but there was no damage and nothing missing. At the library entrance was gained through a basement window and about $10 was taken from a drawer in which money from fines is kept. The thieves smashed a window, sash and all, along the west side of the Chevrolet garage, but nothing was missed.

Wife Entertains 'Ghosts' So Hubby Seeks Divorce

CLEVELAND, May 29.—Entertaining ghosts was bad enough, but when his wife began "conversing with live men with no regard for the spirits of the dead and in search of temporal pleasures," that was too much, a truck driver declared today in a divorce petition.

John Pus described his wife, Esther, as "a specialist in disturbing the repose of the dead and fond of hobnobbing with spirits and calling them into her home for conferences."

He said she placed candles in darkened rooms to entice spirits and frequently spent long periods sitting at tables with an open book containing weird rituals.

Declaring he had been overly patient with her "spiritual eccentricities," Pus said he had "overlooked the encroachment of ghosts on his home and even accepted them as visiting guests for the sake of domestic peace."

He charged her with carrying on extra marital affairs with other men and said he could not overlook this, however.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS!

Gossip over a back fence is everybody's business!... And, in quite another way, your electric company, too, is everybody's business!

A total of 7,466 people are Edison stockholders. 3,591—or nearly half of them—live in Ohio.

All types and kinds of folks are on our stockholder list—housewives, farmers, merchants, teachers, doctors, nurses. They're the direct owners.

And there are countless indirect owners. Even if you don't own a share of our stock yourself, you probably have a stake in Ohio Edison Company through your life insurance policy or savings account.

Why? Because banks and insurance companies—who handle your savings—must invest those funds wisely. One of their large investments is public utility securities. They know that sound business management has made cheap, dependable electric power a basic part of the American way of life.

So, whether you realize it or not—your electric light and power company is not just our business—it's your business.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE
COLUMBUS, Kas., May 29.—Ed Fouts is all wound up in his hobby. His hobby is collecting string. That hobby is more complex than the average taxpayer has any idea. You may never have heard of Ed Fouts before he signed to fight Jess Willard? That is exactly the position Fouts finds himself in today—the dawn period between a comparatively unknown challenger and the world-hailed champion.

Connoisseurs of string collecting already know that Ed is within striking distance of becoming a major figure in this neglected area. One of the slow timelessness characters who become silent milestones in which subsequent devotees measure their own inchoing progress.

To put it bluntly, Ed began collecting string on Dec. 12, 1941—a few days after Pearl Harbor—and now has 178 miles of it, carefully laid together in a perfectly round ball standing four feet six inches high after 293 hours of methodical knotting.

There are scores of people in the United States who collect string on a serious basis, and many more who do it intermittently as a light pastime. Ed knows personally of 30 serious collectors, writes to 15 of them to compare progress.

more coming along all the time." Ed said he was sorry I had come along to write about this hobby.

"I got the record right now on the same weight twine all the way through—16 gauge," he said. "It's all the same color, too. That's another thing someone's overlooked. But I want to win the all-time twine collecting record hands down."

APRIL WAS HIGH MONTH OF STRIKES
WASHINGTON, May 29.—There were more strikes in April than in any month since the coal and railroad tie-ups of last May, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

The nationwide telephone strike, which started April 7 and lasted four to six weeks for 340,000 workers, was the chief cause of idleness during the month, the bureau said.

The "safety" stoppage of John L. Lewis' soft coal miners in April, following a six-day "mourning" period for victims of the Centralia mine blast, was not included in the bureau figures.

April walkouts cost 7,750,000 man-days of work—the equivalent of a day of idleness for that many workers. For the three preceding months, the idleness had averaged about 1,100,000 man-days, the bureau said.

New strikes mounted from 325 in March to 460 in April and involved 600,000 workers. Including disputes which continued from earlier months, about 625 stoppages involving 650,000 workers were in effect for some part of April.

Thorough Job

When a Japanese woman launders a kimono, she rips the seams apart, washes the pieces and stretches them on a board to dry.

After drying the kimono is put together again.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
